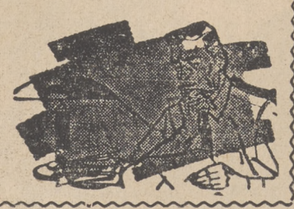
The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin



On Politicians & Tax Costs

A great number of new faces will appear on the political scene next year.

One goodly group will be contesting for San Diego City's Mayor Pete Wilson's assembly seat.

Another group will go for the supervisor's seat left vacant by Second District Henry Boney's decision not to run.

Still another group is in the wings waiting for assembly redistricting creating in the north San Diego area another district carved partly out of big, capable John Stull's baliwick.

All of these people will have to dream up platforms and it's a good bet that a solution to the property tax problem will have to be offered as a mighty wide plank.

When they do, an appropriate question will be: "where will you cut it from?"

At these levels of government only a couple of options are open: welfare and cost of government. Each is important in itself but with a different set of values. No one will state that welfare should be cut without adding, hastily, "of course we should provide for those who cannot provide for themselves."

It takes no expertise to be aware that there are many, many welfare recipients who are "not able to provide for themselves" simply because funds are available in such an uncomplicated manner that it is convenient to "not be able to provide for themselves." This was shown at a welfare seminar sponsored by welfare employees and approved by Supervisor Henry Boney earlier this year at the Town and Country Hotel. Some handouts are so unrealistic at to be ludicrous, it was said.

The tax reduction problem was explained succinctly the other day as county tax bills were being distributed. James Jones, the elected tax collector blamed it on "the increasing cost of government."

If candidates campaigned on these issues it would immediately turn every government employees' group against them. All the welfare recipients — and they are legion — would work against the candidates, too.

Public announcement of cutbacks in these areas would produce some rather bizarre political hazards.

In the realm of employees' associations there is often inside turmoil because these organizations must be run in boot camp fashion. Everything must go up and come down through channels. It is frustrating, and often dehumanizing, for the conscientious employee who wants to give the governmental entity for whom he toils a fair shake. But frequently there are union-goon-like officers in the association who keep the clamps on tightly. Such employee would like to have his voice heard but he needs a strong champion. If the conscientious one could be reached, the candidate could uncork a whole bastion of help.

The truly needy welfare recipient knows that his income may be jeopardized by welfare free-loaders but he would not be much help. Living on gratuities is a tenuous situation at best and recipients nervously watch straws in the wind. Welfare officers' freedom to make determinations— even though most of them are liberal — tells recipients that what is given by whim may also by whim be taken away.

Truth of the matter is that there isn't much any politician can do to reduce the cost of government. If he can cut enough to make it meaningful he will be paining a great many people and groups. These become antagonistic voters who will keep him out of office. So people must do for themselves what government can't or won't do.

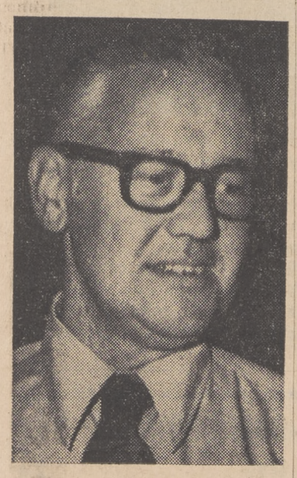
To this end we have suggested to at least one person that a day and time be set for a taxpayers' march on civic center. If 30,000 or 40,000 people showed up on the lawn of the county building at 1600 Pacific Coast Highway some Friday at noon, it would tell county spenders, as well as any way, that the public is through paying for government's profligate spending.

Our guess is that the host of candidates who will face the electorate in 1972 will provide nothing that could be considered a governmental cost-cutting renaissance.

John Garland Becomes Editor of La Mesa Scout

La Mesa businessman Charles O. Robison has purchased the La Mesa Scout and appointed long-time newsman John Garland as his managing editor.

Garland, who was born and reared in England, came to the United States in 1959 and has been involved in newspaper work and public relations since that time.



Garland

He served as editor and assistant publisher of the La Jolla Light and Journal for seven years, and was most recently involved with public relations with the San Diego Transit Corporation.

Garland said he intends to report all phases of La Mesa news, whether it be at the city council level or a locally sponsored fund raising event. His aim, he said, it to enable La Mesans to look to their own community newspaper to know what is going on instead of having to look elsewhere.

LG Crusade Drive Slows

Lemon Grove's United Crusade drive lost some of its initial speed during the past two weeks and was reported at 18.1 per cent of its $8,980 goal at the second countywide Crusade report November 3 in San Diego Stadium. Lemon Grove reported 13 per cent at a similar meeting on October 20.

Countywide progress on the 36 million goal had reached 49 per cent last week. The Crusade campaign started on September 28 and will conclude November 17.

Concern was expressed by Jim Boyd, Lemon Grove Crusade chairman, about the recent pace of the campaign "With the drive scheduled to end in less than two weeks, there is a big job ahead of us to reach our goal," he said.

Grammar School Class of '36 Draws Nearly 200 'School Kids'

What is said to be the first Grammar School Reunion in Lemon Grove came off as an unqualified success Saturday night. The affair attracted almost 200 former students, their spouses, children and grandchildren. Frances Nunez Rubalcaba, an early graduate, boasted nine children and 29 grandchildren and easily outdistanced the group in this category.

It was the reunion of the classes of 1928-1936 and all students were housed in a building that is now an auxiliary building in the Lemon Grove Junior High School. It has been condemned for schoolroom use by the State Earthquake Act but from 1928 until the new school was built, it was the entire eighth grade facility of the Lemon Grove School District.

Of the 190 persons who attended, 100 were former students — and some from as far back as 1925 who came to visit.

One man, David Johnson, now a professor of fine arts, came from Milwaukee, Oregon. Alongside his 1936 school record the principal had noted "poor in arithmetic."

Three teachers of that period were present. Bessie Elliott was teacher and later principal. Marie Adams Williams was fifth grade teacher, and Emil Kurtz, a teacher then, is now chief government meteorologist in San Diego.

Class pictures were taken again as classmates became re-acquainted. Family occupations and family sizes were compared and interim history revealed. Few of the visitors were from outside California.

Adalaida Treganza Stanley, who was in charge of publicity said that high school and college reunions are frequently held but none present could recall a grammar school reunion.

The guest book was presented to Dr. Robert Sutton, assistant superintendent of instruction of the Lemon Grove School District.

Those invited to the affair included:

Shirley (Ahrens) Jordan, Robert Alvarez, Jim Applestill, Elva (Beckwith) Colbeth, Leland Beckwith, Justa (Beltran) Smith, Mary (Beltran) Padilla, Betty (Bingham) Head, Eunice (Bingham) Cox, Kate (Bingham) Godfrey, and Mary (Bond) Viau.

Also, Joseph Bonilla, Grace (Brower) Berdel, Hazel (Brower) Kratz, Irvin and Shelby Brown, Anton and George Brunner, Alberta (Calhoun) Beaver, Betty (Carr) Dann, Manuel Cesena, Bernice (Cletus) Gibbs, Florene (Close) McAlexander, Alva Conway, Jack Craig, Frances (Delgado) Jurado, and Adelaide (Delgado) Quintero.

Others include, Albert and Ernest Denlinger, Sarah (Fernandez) Simpson, Jess Gonzales, Dale and Rolla Hamilton, Charles Everett and John Hetrick, Esther (Hetrick) Merton, Don and Les Heyser, Harry Humphrey, Judy (Humphrey) Lewis, Larry Hunter, and David and Tom James.

Also, Joy (Jenkins) Connors, Belle (Jenner) Laws, Marjorie (Jenner) Nation, Carl, David, Oscar and Paul Johnson, Pearl (Johnson) Holaday, Pete Johnson, Ruby (Johnson) Elkins, Mary (Kerfoot) Wideman, and Satoshi and Tom Kida.

S.D. City Council Delays Imperial 80 Development

Whether or not the Imperial 80 planned residential development will be constructed in the southwest corner of the Lemon Grove School District has not yet been determined, and will not be determined until 1972.

The proposed development, which is within the San Diego City Limits but falls partially in the Lemon Grove School District, has been the subject of controversy for several months.

The problem is that the expected 200 students from the development will attend Lemon Grove schools, which are presently at capacity, yet the developers have refused to enter into an agreement with the local district which would require the developers to provide temporary school facilities for the youngsters until the district is able to construct permanent facilities.

The developers have tried to achieve approval for the development from the San Diego City Council, but have been turned down several times because of a density factor—too many units per acre — under present zoning.

Tuesday, the city council delayed until next year a hearing on a smaller number of units, which is still more than the zoning allows.

The Lemon Grove School District has opposed the moves because the developers refused to enter into the agreement.

If the developers are allowed to build the development without the agreement, the Lemon Grove School District will be responsible for educating students from the 500 to 600 units, but will have no additional funds with which to do it.

The money, then, will come from present taxes, which could mean an increase in taxes for local property owners.

In addition to discussing developments in the Imperial 80 matter, the Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees discussed several routine matters and spent some time with a report on unification, at Monday night's meeting.

The Lemon Grove District has supported the four-district unification plan, depending on whether or not a bill is passed which would make it legal, as the plan does not meet certain requirements for unification.

Under the plan, the entire Grossmont area would be split into four districts, each with a number of elementary schools and one or more high schools.

A decision must be reached by the county board of education by December 9 on which plan to be submitted to the voters. Presently, a one-district plan is scheduled for the ballot, unless the four-district plan is submitted and approved. The plan must meet certain requirements, and unless the bill is passed which would make the four-district plan feasible, the one-district concept will go to the voters.

Dr. Askew To Retire

San Diego County Health Director J. B. Askew has announced that he will retire.

Several weeks age he said that administering to county health had become extremely complex by the county's determination to overlay his agency with other levels of government.

"I spend most of my time coordinating with other agencies. I don't have time to do my own work," he said several weeks ago.

It will be about a year before he leaves, he said.

Spring Valley Group Draws Nearly 2,000

Nearly 2,000 residents of Spring Valley and surrounding communities were on hand at Monte Vista gymnasium last Wesdnesday night for an organizational meeting of a planning group for that area.

At the meeting, which is the second in a series which will eventually lead to the establishment of a local planning body, volunteers were accepted to serve on an executive committee to esablish bylaws and elect officers.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held next Thursday, and everyone who signed up last week will receive a notice of the meeting. Additionally, others who are interested in serving on a committee will be welcome at the meeting.

Because of overwhelming response from residents of Spring Valley, the local group will become one of the largest planning associations in the county.

The next step in the process will be organization of the executive committee, with officers chosen, bylaws adopted, and subcommittees formed.

The executive committee will adopt the necessary resolutions and then present them to the general association for final adoption.

Boundaries of the group include Spring Valley, La Presa, Casa de Oro, and Brookside, but presently the community group is known as "community x", but will be changed, possibly at the next meeting.

After the meeting, it is expected that a chairman for the general group will be selected at the November 18 meeting, which will be at 7:30 p.m. at Monte Vista High Schol.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

The words of a great writer were translated into Spanish as "Ser o no ser; es la pregunta." If we translate those words back into English they suggest "To be or not to be; that is the question." On a word for word basis "ser" means "to be" and "o" means "or." "Es" is converted to "is" and 'la pregunta" means 'the question."

"Ser" is the base for variation and change to other forms. "Soy" is one of the variations of "ser." "Soy" is used to express the idea "I am." "Soy" is pronounced "SOH-ee" and is limited in use to those ideas which relate to character and performance. Examples of such expressions may be seen in "Soy un hombre." (I am a man.) or "Soy una mujer." (I am a woman.) which lend themselves to being very permanent. Also expressions which identify character as expressed in "Soy mal hombre." (I am a bad man.) and "Soy hombre bueno." (I am a good man.) demonstrate expression of character.

"Es" means "is" and can mean "are" when used with "usted" (you). Thus we may say "Usted es un hombre." (You are a man.) and "El es un hombre." (He is a man.) We may say also "El es buen hombre." (He is a good man.) and "Usted es buen hombre." (You are a good man.). We may also say "Ella es amable." (She is kind.) or "Usted es muy amable." (You are very kind.).

"Somos" is the plural form of "ser" and would be translated "We are." We may see "somos" being used in phrases like "Somos alegre." (We are happy.) or "Somos triste." (We are sad.). Other variations are seen in "Somos amigos." (We are friends.) and a negative form "No somos amigos." (We are not friends.).

"Son" requires the plural subjects of "Ellos, ellas, y ustedes" (They they and you). "Ellos" is masculine for "they" and "ellas" is feminine for "they." "Ellos son felices." (They are happy.) is one example.

Practice phrases that may be heard upon dialing 276-2762 are as follows:

SAY "Me gustaria ser doctor." (meh goos-tah-REE-ah sehr dohk-TOHR)
for "I would like to be a doctor."
SAY "Como es posible?" (KOH-moh ehs poh-SEE-bleh)
for "How is that possible?"
SAY "Usted es amable." (oo-STEHD ehs ah-MAHB-leh)
for "You are very kind."
SAY "Somos muy buenos amigos." (SOH-mohs moo-ee boo-EH-nohs ah-MEE-gohs) for "We are very good friends."

Lemon Grove Woman Is Navy's Only Female Driver's License Tester

It's a first for the San Diego Navy Public Works Center and a woman has been named as Driver's License Examiner in the Navy command's Transportation Department. She's Mrs. Eileen Beals of 8160 Braddock pl., Lemon Grove. According to Earl Tallman, director, Equipment Operations Division, she's believed to be the only woman Road Test Examiner in Navy federal service.

"I first thought because I would be mostly associated with men there would be some resentment. However, in actual practice of taking men out for road tests there's been no problems," Mrs. Beals said.

A vacancy was created when one man retired and a second transferred from the Center License Office. The position was vacant and Mrs. Beals is now acting as License and Testing Branch Head.

She first completed requirements and was awarded a Road Test Examiner's Certificate from the Civil Service Commission. She's since completed the Center requirements and has been presented the PWC Driver's Examiner Certificate. She's qualified through 2 ton vehicles.

But what's her outlook concerning women in government service?

"As long as a woman can do a job as well as a man there is no reason why a woman shouldn't be given an opportunity regardless of the job," is the outlook demonstrated by Mrs. Beals.

According to her supervisor she can do the job as well as a man and now serves as a PWC Driver's License Examiner.

And she came in for some good-natured teasing from her family at time of qualifying for the job. She explained it this way.

"Mrs. R. L. Rolling was transferring from PWC and there was a need to expidite checking me out for the job. He came to our home and during the visit commented to my children that your mother is now a truck driver. My daughter, Nancy, was quick to echo the words "my mother the truck driver" for some few days following," Mrs Beals laughingly commented.

She explained that a number of people are prone to play down the importance of a government driver's license and propose just use of the state license.

"I challenge anyone interested in giving away the government license and substituting the state license. I invite these people to come down and go out on a few road tests with me. I think that could pinpoint the fact quicker than anything else," she said.

She explained that a major portion of people tested are out of state and not familiar with California laws or crowded driving conditions.

And she gets a driver's grade of excellence from her family with the comment from her husband and son, "she's the better driver."

Friends and members are invited. A social hour will precede the talk, according to Mrs. Anthony Codina, program chairman.

William H. McGuffey, the man who wrote "McGuffey's Reader" books, was a professor at Miami University in Ohio and also president of Ohio University.

POSTER CHILD — David Joseph Noriega, a young man who has had to combat many physical problems, has been named March of Dimes Poster Child by the San Diego-Imperial Chapter for the annual January campaign to prevent birth defects. Mt. Miguel Marks Homecoming Week

Mount Miguel High School is celebrating its 14th annual homecoming this week, with various activities ranging from class competitions and an assembly on Friday, to a football game that evening, followed by a homecoming dance.

Homecoming week was kicked off Tuesday with a spinach eating contest, with class officers being fed by each other.

On Wednesday, students and teachers alike dressed up as cartoon characters, in keeping with the week's theme "A Walk Through Comic-Book Land."

A cross section of characters was seen at the school, including the likes of Superman, Flash Gordon, Mickey Mouse, Popeye, Charlie Brown and Snoopy.

At 9 a.m. this morning, a tricycle race was scheduled, with students taking on faculty in the battle of the three-wheelers.

The assembly tomorrow will be for all students, honoring the football team, cross country team, and homecoming queen candidates. The assembly will be from 10:30 to 11:20 a.m. on the football field, and alumnae have been invited.

The traditinal alumni tea will be in the cafeteria from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The football game will pit Mount Miguel against Monte Vista in a traditional rivalry, with the name of the homecoming queen announced at halftime.

Also at halftime, a float parade will be held, featuring floats constructed by the various on-campus clubs at the school.

The "Farefield Steeworks", a rock band, will provide music at the post-game dance.

First coins were believed to have been minted around 600 B.C. in Lydia, Asia Minor.

Sea World Coins To Help Epilepsy Drive

November is National Epilepsy Month and in San Diego County it marks the beginning of an annual fund drive to provide needed educational and health services for the 10,000 children and adults in San Diego who are afflicted with this handicap.

To assist the Epilepsy Society of San Diego, a non-profit community health organization, Sea World is contributing more than $100 in a collection of pennies, dimes, nickles and other coins collected from the eight pools and fountains within the 80-acre marine park.

Two Social Workers Hired At High School

Students at Mount Miguel High School seeking counseling for school and personal problems will be relieved to know that there are two regular social workers now on campus.

Social workers Gloria Boston and Ion Grushko are on campus every Thursday and Friday.

Both workers are now enrolled in graduate school at San Diego State College, and are fully qualified, each having done social work before.

Miss Boston, a Chico State College graduate, was employed as an eligibility worker for welfare near Sacramento. Grushko, a 1969 graduate of Arizona State College, spent the last 2 years in New York City counseling drug addicts.

"We don't tell people what to do," Grushko said. "We listen to the problem and then counsel the person so he'll make his own decisions."

"Students have problems that can really bother them," Miss Boston explained, "so it's good to have somebody to talk to. We're sort of a medium between the school and the home."

Liaison League Starts Chapter In S.D. County

A chapter of the Liaison League Rehabilitation Group, Inc., an organization to help women county jail releases to become self-sustaining citizens in the community, has been started in San Diego County.

The original group was started in Los Angeles in 1964 by a combined group of laity and law enforcement persons. Mrs. A. Elmer Jansen, a certified jail consultant now living in La Mesa and one of the original founders of the Liaison League in Los Angeles, has assisted the San Diego County Jail and the Sheriff's Department in setting up the program which has as its motto "To help others to help themselves."

The league is comprised of a board of directors, volunteer women citizens called sponsors and women jail releases called leaguers. Married couples are also welcome to become sponsors.

The sponsors act as stablizing and guiding forces to women leaguers as they come out of jail. They assist in arranging for a place for a leaguer to live, assist her in finding a job, and in finding new sources of entertainment and social life through the development of new hobbies, meeting new people and visiting local entertainment spots. A sponsor may also assist the leaguer in furthering her education.

The sponsor is given an intensive course in the problems the leaguers may have and how to cope with them. The leaguer is set up on a one-sponsor-to-one-leaguer basis. The sponsor begins to see the leaguer approximately six weeks before the leaguer is released from jail to assist in making arrangements for the leaguer once she is released and will continue to assist her for six months after the leaguer is released. The program in Los Angeles has had from 70 to 80 per cent success, and three leaguers here in San Diego have already been released.

Members of the board of directors are responsible professional and business leaders in the community who assist in fund-raising, in securing sponsors, and in the general administration of the league. Board of directors for the San Diego chapter include Richard K. Adams, Minister of the Spring Valley Presbyterian Church, and Wiliam Powell, of Lemon Grove, who is president of the La Mesa Branch of the U. S. National Bank.

Lunch Program Due In High School District

Free or reduced price lunches are available to students in the Grossmont Union High School District who fall within Federal and State standards, according to Robert C. Beaudoin, Food Service Supervisor.

Information and application forms have been sent to all parents, Beaudoin said, but those who overlooked the opportunity and feel they might qualify may obtain information from their local school. The district includes Helix, Mt. Miguel, and Monte Vista High Schools.

In addition, emergency meals are available to students whose family has suffered sudden loss of income due to unemployment, illness, death, desertion, delay in receipt of pay, or other causes.

In such cases, the student's word shall be accepted at face value, and school officials will immediately investigate the claim and determine how long free or reduced price meals should continue.

Any family which is denied free or reduced price meals, after making proper application, may appeal for a hearing before the school principal. The family may be assisted by an attorney or any other person in making this appeal.

An application must be signed by an adult member of the family, and may be made at any time during the year. The guideline for allowing free lunches is based on family income.

For example, a family of two with a monthly gross income of $223 or less, or a family of five with an income of $378 or less, would qualify for free lunches. Others, who do not meet the requirements, may qualify for reduced price lunches.

Students participating in the program will not be required to eat in a special lunch room, use special identification, or in any other way identify themselves to classmates.

Dr. Karr Rapped For Withholding Contract Info

Journalism's distinguished professional society, Sigma Delta Chi (San Diego Chapter), has formally censured San Diego State College and its director of athletics, Dr. Kenneth Karr, for withholding public information and for misinformation by Dr. Karr relative to negotiations between the school and the San Diego International Sports Arena concerning Aztec basketball games for 1971-72.

Acting on a request by the Sportscasters / Sportswriters Association of San Diego and Baja California, the Freedom of Information Committee of SDX investigated records of a news conference called September 23 by Sports Arena owner Peter Graham for the purpose of announcing a contract between the Sports Arena and San Diego State for basketball games in the arena this upcoming season.

Dr. Karr stated flatly early in the news conference that he would not discuss the financial arrangement and when pressed, said "because I do not wish to discuss it with you" and "simply because I said so."

Reminded that he represented a public institution, San Diego State, Karr acknowledged the fact but remained adamant in refusing to discuss any financial aspects of the contract.

Contacted by SDX, Karr responded in a letter saying newsmen present at the news

MERRY MUSICIANS— Harry Weisgerber, instrumental music instructor with the Lemon Grove School District, is shown as he instructs a group of flutists at Monterey Heights Elementary School in his mobile classroom. Weisgerber makes daily trips in the van to each of the district's schools, where students in grades four through six are instructed. The van, which cost the district $11,000, enables Weisgerber to give instruction at all the schools without calling for additional buildings, which would cost a minimum of $35,000 at each school.

Applications Accepted At Grossmont

Grossmont College has commenced accepting applications for the spring 1972 semester. The application period will run through January 21, 1972.

Registration for the spring semester will be conducted February 1-4, with the semester officially starting February 5.

Prospective students are urged to make early application for the spring semester, as registration priority will be based on date of application. Assistance in educational planning, including course availability, major, or transfer requirements may be obtained by making an appointment in the counseling center at the time application is filed.

Prospective students must have arranged for the forwarding of transcripts of previous high school or college work, including verification of graduation, to the Admissions Office prior to making application for enrollment. All applications must be made in person.

Disabled Vets Campaign Set

The annual Forget-Me-Not sale of the Disabled American Veterans will be held today, Friday and Saturday.

An estimated 125 volunteer workers armed with canisters and artificial blue flowers will seek donations at local street corners and shopping centers during the three-day campaign. Volunteers workers can be identified by official lapel placards or arm bands.

Funds collected are used for general rehabilitation or disabled veterans, to maintain a service officer for the San Diego area, and for Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for needy families of local veterans. Contributions by San Diegans also will be used for flower wreathes for deceased veteran members and entertainment for shut-ins at Naval Hospital.

'Weisberger's Whoopee Wagon' Helps Teach L.G. Youngsters

The students refer to the "W" on its side as denoting "Weisgerber's Whoopee Wagon." In reality, the letter is a manufacturer's trademark and with it comes a 23-foot long mobile van used by Lemon Grove Junior High Band and Orchestra Director Harry Weisgerber to teach music to approximately 200 area elementary school children.

Because of its nature, the van is sometimes a subject of controversy by those opposed to spending "unnecessary" money for education. In reality, it represents a savings to taxpayers because it can be used at each of the district's eight elementary schools without a separate room at each location, according to Weisgerber.

The necessity of such an investment came about because there was no room at the elementary schools for teaching band and orchestra instruments to students. Weisgerber was constantly being shifted to different rooms and even had to teach in cafeterias during lunch periods.

"We were losing many children every year because of the conditions so we looked for an alternative," he said.

Permanent classrooms were figured at about $55,000 each and even temporary structures were about $35,000.

"We checked into many makes of mobile units and called for bids before buying this one," Weisgerber states. The van was puchased for $11,000 and was put into use last June.

In order to pare costs, the district ordered the unit without furnishings and had carpeting for sound, a desk and blackboards installed by its maintenance staff.

It measures approximately eight feet wide and 23 feet in length and is big enough for two instructors to teach at the same time. Weisgerber can instruct as many as 16 students at one lesson.

Because of the noise from the instruments, the unit is double insulated in the walls, floor and ceiling and is air-conditioned.

"I can drive it right up to an adjoining classroom and not have to be concerned with the musical sounds bothering anyone else," Weisgerber added.

He feels it has proved to be an outstanding teaching tool and says the effectiveness of both the student and the instructor increases markedly. It has been so successful that other districts have expressed interest in the same type of unit.

Most of the elementary school children Weisgerber teaches graduate to Lemon Grove Jr. High's band and orchestra, one of Southern California's finest and annually winners of major awards for excellence.

Most of the students then progress to either Mt. Miguel or Helix High Schools, the former a five time representative of San Diego in the annual Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena and the latter recently named to send its band to the January, 1971, affair in Pasadena.

Fair Set At St. Philip's Nov. 19, 20

Plans have been completed for the annual Lemon Grove St. Philip's Episcopal Church Christmas Fair, Nov. 19 and 20.

The two day affair is to be held at the church, Palm ave. and Hardy rd., from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. both days.

Included among the many attractions is an outstanding display of decorations and gifts made by members of the congregation which in past years has drawn professional buyers to the fair.

Also scheduled are sewing and novelty items, a green thumb department, Chinese auction, white elephant sale, baked goods, a candy bar and plenty of food. Snack bar specialties for consumption are home-made chili, hamburgers, hot dogs, grilled cheese and baked ham sandwiches and desserts.

A "Genuine Italian Spaghetti Dinner" will be featured from 4-7 p.m. November 20. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children.

Padre Voices To Be Chandler, Jerry Coleman

Jerry Coleman, former New York Yankee infielder and for the past 11 years a network sports broadcaster, has been named play-by-play announcer for the San Diego Padres.

Coleman

Coleman, 47, played on six pennant-winning Yankee teams during his nine-year major league career. He presently does a nightly sports broadcast for a Los Angeles television station and a weekend sports show for the ABC radio network.

The Padres also announced that Bob Chandler, a 10-year veteran of sports broadcasting in the San Diego area, will join Coleman on the radio and television broadcasts.

Chandler

The Padres will broadcast all next season's 162 regularly scheduled games, commencing with the season opener April 6 in San Francisco. The broadcasts will originate over San Diego station KOGO. Several selected exhibition games also will be broadcast.

The Padres also expect to announce soon a television schedule similar to last season, a total of 18 games played in Los Angeles and in San Francisco, to be carried by Channel 39 (KCST).

E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, club president, said that the new Padre announcers bring both experience and skill to their assignment.

"Both Jerry Coleman and Bob Chandler have worked hard and successfully as sports announcers," Bavasi said. "Both have earned excellent reputations.

Matadors Belt Helix With Last Minute Touchdown

By Paul Stark

Mount Miguel High School, with a last-minute touchdown pass from Jess Jenner to Mark Dobransky, shocked the Helix Highlanders, 28-24, befor a full homecoming crowd in the losers' stadium.

The game was won through a fine Mt. Miguel comeback effort and the lack of a Helix kicking game, which produced no extra points and excellent Mount Miguel field position for most of the evening.

"Our strategy was to take the long runback away from Tim Miller", said Helix mentor Al Hammerschmidt. "We deliberately kept our kickoffs shallow and away from Miller, and it cost us."

Both teams picked up four touchdowns, but Mount Miguel made four conversion points, which made the difference in the score.

Mount Miguel's winning touchdown came just after Helix had forged ahead with a touchdown and only 1:05 was left on the scoreboard clock. On the kickoff, Mount Miguel got possession on its own 40 yard line and started on a Tim Miller-Dan Cowan running combination, which, coupled with a couple of timeouts, left the Matadors on the Helix six-yard line with 40 seconds left.

Jenner faded back from that point and hit Dobransky for the winning TD.

Trailing, 28-24, the Highlanders then made a last-ditch effort of their own, as Sam Smith and Jim Browning went to work on the Mount Miguel pass defense. Browning and Smith ran and passed their way to the Mount Miguel 28-yard line, where Browning made one last call with just five seconds left.

Browning faded back and threw the ball into the end zone and into the hands of Dave Oliver, but Oliver was out of bounds and the gun sounded, giving Mount Miguel the win.

Helix opened the scoring early in the second quarter when the Highlanders marched 73 yards in 11 plays with 45 yards coming through the air. Frank Woolrich, who picked up 35 yards in the drive. olunged up the middle from two yards out for the touchdown. Jack Nicholson's kick was no good.

The Matadors tied the game 6-6 with 3:45 left in the first half when they marched 48 yards in 7 plays with 38 yards coming on the ground.

The touchdown came when Dan Cowan blasted up the middle from 20 yards out. Jess Jenner's kick was wide to the right.

Helix used a razzle-dazzle play to go in front with 43 seconds left in the first half. Jim Browning pitched out to Sam Smith who then passed back to Browning. Browning then passed 47 yards to Ken Sluder for the touchdown. Browning tried to pass for a two point converion but the play was broken up.

The half ended with the score 1[illegible] in favor of the Highlanders.

The Matadors went ahead early in the third quarter when a Jack Nicholson punt traveled only 18 yards to the Helix 40-yard line.

Ten plays later, Dan Cowan, who picked up 22 yards in the drive, scored his second touchdown of the game when he plunged up the middle from one yard out. Jenner's kick was through the up-rights.

The Highlanders used the razzle-dazzle play again with 3:45 left in the third period. Jim Browning threw a screen pass to Sam Smith who ran a couple yards and then stopped and fired a 31-yard bullet to Dave Oliver who was all alone on the five. Browning's pass for two points was no good, and the score was 18-13.

The Matadors went back on top early in the fourth quarter when Terry Klusman returned a Nicholson punt back for 17 yards to the Highlanders 23-yard line to set up the touchdown. Five plays later Dan Cowan, who picked up 16 yards in three carries, blasted in from the four. Jenner passed to Mark Dobransky for the two-point conversion.

Helix's last score came with 5:05 left in the game when they marched 66 yards in 7 plays.

The key play of the drive came when Jim Browning passed 40 yards to Chip Swanson to the Matadors 14-yard line, on a third and nine situation. Sam Smith on the next play scrambled 8 yards to the 2-yard line, and plunged in for the touchdown on the next play. A two point conversion pass was broken up.

Tomorrow night, Mount Miguel will host an upstat Monte Vista team at 8 p.m. Monte Vista, a winner last week over Granite Hills, 49-28, has looked excellent the last four weeks and could have a good shot for an upset.

Mount Miguel will be gunning for its third straight win and fifth win of the year, and still has an outside chance for a berth in the C.I.F. playoffs.

Monarchs Blast Eagles, 49-28; Set For Rivalry Tomorrow Night

By Tom Blattler

In preparation for their final game of the season against arch-rival Mt. Miguel, the Monte Vista Monarchs ran over the Granite Hills Eagles, 49-28, last Friday night at Valley Stadium.

The win for the Monarchs was their first ever over Granite Hills in their ten year existence. Another first was the 49 points in one game, the most ever scored by a Monarch team. In fact, Monte Vista had only scored 36 points in five games going into Friday night's game.

With the win over the Eagles, which was Monte Vista's second of the league season, the Spring Valley team will set their sights on an upset tomorrow night over what is probably the league's strongest team at this point.

Mount Miguel, which was picked by many as the cellar dweller this season, last week knocked off previously undefeated Helix in a belated effort to make the C.I.F. post-season playoffs.

The Matadors, who still have a slim chance to make the playoffs if El Capitan is upset by arch-rival Santana tomorrow night, have lost just a pair of games and have claimed two straight wins.

Monte Vista, however, will not be playing dead tomorrow night against the rough Miguelers from over the hill. The Monarchs showed a powerful offense and a pretty good defense against Granite Hills last week and should be ready for the game.

Against Granite Hills, Monte Vista took the opening kickoff but fumbled on the first play from scrimmage, setting up an easy Eagle touchdown.

The Monarchs, slightly ired by the mishap, took the subsequent kickoff and started a 44-yard drive to paydirt to even the score, but Granite Hills fought back to take the lead again as the second period opened.

Trailing 14-7, Monte Vista quarterback Art Spahr went to the air and it paid off as Alan Cornwell romped into the end zone on a six-yard play to knot the score again. Cornwell, a tackle, confused Eagle defenders when Spahr called the tackle eligible play.

Granite Hills came back with an excellent ground game to take the lead again, but a blocked extra point try made the score just 20-14.

The Monarchs, in a belated effort to regain the lead before the halftime intermission, took to the sideline pass play and drove to the Eagle seven-yard line, where Spahr hit Jerry King for the TD. The extra point was good and the Monarchs took the lead into the dressing room, 21-20.

SPAHR STARS — Monte Vista quarterback Art Spahr, shown here on a right end sweep, had a good night last Friday when he and his team invaded Valley Stadium and came home with an impressive 49-28 victory. Spahr was the game's star, throwing a pair of touchdown passes and running for two more. Spahr will lead his Monarchs into Mount Miguel stadium tomorrow night for the tradition rival game at 8 p.m.

Parkway Takes Cross Country Meet Laurels

Parkway Junior High School, although failing to take first places in either of the two races, swept to honors in the La Mesa Recreation Department's junior high cross country meet last Friday.

In the one-mile seventh grade race, La Presa Junior High's Manuel Sandoval took first place with a 5:12 clocking, nine seconds faster than second place John Sabin of Parkway. Nevertheless, Parkway got good grouping for a total of 33 points to take team honors. La Presa was second with 36 tallies, Spring Valley Junior High took third with 58 points, and La Mesa Junior High was fourth with 108 points.

In the mile and a quarter eighth grade race, Richard Bales and Paul Miller took first and second place for La Presa, but Parkway grouping prevailed again as the Parkway runners compiled 36 points. La Presa again was second with 48 points, followed by Spring Valley with 53 tallies and La Mesa with 95.

The next meet is scheduled for this afternoon at 4 p.m. over the Helix High School courses. Seventh graders will run 1¼ miles, while eighth graders will step up to a 1½-mile course.

Favorite over the new distances will be La Presa in the seventh grade race and Parkway in the eighth grade competition.

Girls Basketball Registration On Tap Saturday

Registration for girls in grades five through eight will be taken Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon in the Mount Miguel High School gymnasium for the Spring Valley Recreation Department's girls' basketball league.

Registration fees, which include insurance, are $1.50 for girls in the S.V. Recreation District, and $2.50 for those who live outside the district.

Games will be played Monday and Wednesday evenings at the Monte Vista High School gymnasium, beginning in January, 1972. The gym is currently open Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 9 p.m. for free play and practice.

Girls, who will be divided into two leagues according to grades, must be accompanied by parents or legal guardians in order to register.

Tryouts are scheduled for December 1 and 6.

Helix Harriers Draw With Mount Miguel

The Mount Miguel-Helix cross country meet was supposed to be a close one last Friday, and it more than lived up to expectations when Helix pulled out a 28-28 tie with the Matadors.

Mount Miguel's front runner, Joe Stubbs, Rick Debus, and Joe Badger, all looked good in the meet, but Bob Morrison and John Klein were unable to perform as well as they have the past couple of weeks.

Stubbs picked up an excellent 9:54 clocking enroute to his win, while Badger took fourth and Debus nailed down fifth, both credited with identical 10:12 times.

For Helix, Mark Semanscin and Al Sandoval took second and third, Dan Johns took sixth, and Rick Robertson, Dan Cruz, and Dave Flores took eighth, ninth, and tenth.

Morrison and Klein failed to make the top ten in the race, which gave Helix the sister-kisser. Both runners were expected to be nearer Jim Jordan, who took seventh place.

Another close meet is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon over the Mount Miguel course when Monte Vista visits the Matadors.

Monte Vista has an excellent front running pair in Gary Close and Tom Wendt, who last week both ran under the course record at Granite Hills. Close shaved 7-4 seconds off Joe Stubb's mark last week, and Wendt was .9 seconds behind Close. Stubbs set the record earlier this season.

The prep league season will bow out with tomorrow's games, and they are all rivalries. Here's who plays who and also my picks to claim victory:

Football

Helix vs. Grossmont at Aztec Bowl. Here are two powerhouses in a battle that should prove most interesting. Grossmont depends on the league's best offense and a pretty fair defense, while Helix is perhaps the best balanced team in the league. Grossmont has to be the choice however, by four points.

Monte Vista at Mount Miguel. Monte Vista has not had a good year, but has looked better each week the past couple of games, and should be up for the game. Mount Miguel, however, has the league's best rushing attack and will be a tough one to upset. Mount Miguel to get the win by three TD's.

El Capitan vs. Santana at Monte Vista. El Capitan, this year's "cinderella team", has won most of its games with tremendous come-from-behind tactics and has looked a little bit lucky in three games this season, when the Vags appeared to be headed anywhere but for victory. Santana is a scrappy team and plays well in Monte Vista Stadium. Santana in a 10-point upset.

El Cajon at Granite Hills. El Cajon has yet to win and this arch-rivalry could offer a surprisingly close game when the Braves put it all together. Granite Hills has it home turf, however, and should be able to beat the Braves. Granite Hills by 9.

Cross Country

Helix at Grossmont. Helix has been running well of late and has shown no signs of fatigue in this late portion of the season. Grossmont just doesn't have the tools to upset the Highlanders. Helix by 14.

Monte Vista at Mount Miguel. The battle for second place will take the back seat in this blood-race, as these two teams have been super rivals for many years. Monte Vista has Gary Close leading the way, and the injury-riddled Matadors will put most hopes on Joe Stubbs. Nearly every runner on the Mount Miguel team has been injured at one time or another this season, but they have all mended for this meet. Mount Miguel to win by the surprising margin of 12 points.

El Capitan at Santana. This meet is a tough one to call, but Santana should be ready for the Vaqueros, who will be running the new Sultan course for the first time. Santana by five.

El Cajon at Granite Hills. Look out for the Eagles! They have been looking better and better each week and are primed for an upset if Cotton doesn't run for the Braves. With Cotton, the Braves are pretty much unbeatable, but he sat out a couple of meets lately and may be tempted to sit out against the "lowly" Eagles. With Cotton: Braves by 10 points. Without Cotton: Eagles by 2.

Our Men In The Armed Forces

Dennis Dougherty

Army Private First Class Dennis W. Dougherty, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephon L. Dougherty, 8624 Harness st., Spring Valley, is participating with more than 11,000 troops in exercise Reforger III in Germany.

He is a rifleman with Company B, 20 Battalion, 16th Infantry of the 1st Infantry Division at Ft. Riley, Kan.

The "Big Red One" Division consists of three Brigades. The 1st and 2nd Brigades are based at Ft. Riley and the 3rd Brigade is permanently stationed at Augsburg, Germany.

The men of the 1st and 2nd Brigades, with support units, flew to Germany to join the 3rd and move to the exercise area extending from Munich to near the Czechoslovakian border. Emphasis in the exercise was placed on testing procedures for receiving, assembling and deploying Army units once they arrived, rather than on rapid air transport from the U.S.

In the field maneuver phase of the exercise, units of the 1st Infantry Division and the Canadian 4th Mechanized Battle Group engaged in simulated combat with the aggressor forces of the U.S. 1st Armored Division (regularly stationed in Germany) and the German 35th Panzer Grenadier Brigade.

Exercise Reforger III is the third annual operation in the series. The exercises are designed to fulfill U. S. commitments to NATO and those made in the 1967 trilateral agreement between the U.S., the United Kingdom and the Federal Republic of Germany.

Ronald Straight

Army Specialist Four Ronald L. Straight, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland B. Straight, 10767 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, is participating with more than 11,000 troops in Exercise Reforger III in Germany.

conference did not understand what he meant, that he and Graham had actually not reached an agreement nor signed a contract up to or at the time of the news conference. He stated further in his response that "when final agreement is reached, we will attempt to discuss in general terms the nature of the agreement that we have settled upon."

Upon further investigation by the Freedom of Information Committee of SDX, it was determined that both Karr and Graham had declared unequivocably an agreement had been reached and a contract signed prior to the September 23rd news conference.

Karr has made no further explanations to news media, and San Diego State basketball season tickets for games to be played in the Sports Arena have been advertised, sold and mailed out.

The official censure resolution concludes, "THEREFORE: the San Diego Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, through its Freedom of Information Commitete, does hereby issue this Proclamation of Censure of Dr. Kenneth Karr and San Diego State College for withholding public information and for misinformation by Dr. Karr regarding a contract that was actually in existence at the time he said it was not. Such performance reduces the prestige and integrity of this great public institution of higher education."

PTA HILITES

Mount Vernon

A holiday cooking program was to highlight a special meeting of the Mt. Vernon Elementary School PTA this morning at 9:30 a.m.

Representatives of the San Diego Gas and Electric Company were to be on hand to prepare quick holiday menus. Recipies were to be distributed as well as samples of the food, according to Mrs. William Erickson, program chairman.

Vision and hearing tests for all pre-school area children were conducted Wednesday at the Lemon Grove Youth Center, according to Mrs. Mike Cervantes, health and welfare chairman.

The Mt. Vernon school library, which has shown a steady increase in numbers of books in recent years because of PTA sponsorship of various drives, is attempting to provide additional books for students in kindergarten, first, and second grades.

Persons wishing to donate books, either new or used, are asked to bring them to the school office, 8350 Mt. Vernon, or contact Mrs. John Obendorfer, library chairman, 463-6967.

Valley Grove Council

The Valley Grove Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, in cooperation with the Ninth District C.C.P.T., the California Society for the Prevention of Blindness, and the California Department of Health, will hold a pre-school vision and hearing clinic November 16 at the Bible Baptist Church, 750 Conception st., Spring Valley.

Women in the program, who will receive no pay for their services, will go through courses at the Sheriff's Reserve Academy and will not use or carry firearms.

Applications are available at the Lemon Grove Sub-Station and at the Sheriff's Headquarters downtown.

How to save money on your gas and electric bills.

(And help conserve energy.)

Wouldn't it be nice to know you're saving on your gas and electric bills and helping to solve a national problem? Few of us have extra money and today many areas of our country face an energy shortage. You can do something about both of these problems. You can save on your utility bills and at the same time do your part to conserve energy.

How? Look over the illustration below. It shows a number of do-it-yourself hints to keep a check on your utility bills and help conserve energy.

We realize that something which may seem to be a "wasteful" use of energy to one person, may be essential to another. For example, some householders may find it desirable to keep one or more lights on all night in their homes as a safety measure and for their peace of mind. Others might view this as unnecessary. So, as you read these hints, please keep in mind that they are simply suggestions for more economic use of energy.

SDG&E SAN DIEGO GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY

1. Keep the damper closed when your fireplace is not in use, or block the opening with a movable cover such as plywood or insulating board.

2. Keep the opening and closing of doors to the outside at a minimum, so that heat doesn't escape from the house.

3. Don't waste money by playing with the thermostat. Contrary to popular belief, turning up the thermostat doesn't make the furnace produce any more heat — what it does is keep the furnace operating longer and use up more fuel. Set the thermostat at the temperature desired and leave it alone. If operating properly, the furnace will automatically turn itself on and off. Find the coolest indoor temperature at which the house is comfortable. Heating costs, for example, increase significantly for every degree above 70° that you set the thermostat.

4. Change or clean the furnace filter several times during the winter. A furnace with a dirty or clogged filter cannot operate at maximum efficiency. If a furnace or heating system doesn't seem to be operating properly, don't try to repair it. Contact your service representative or SDG&E.

5. If a room isn't being used, turn off registers and radiators and keep the door closed.

6. If the garage and attic aren't heated, keep the doors closed which connect with the rest of the house.

7. Never use a range or oven to heat a kitchen. . . . it was not designed for this use.

8. Check the insulation in your home. Seal all cracks and crevices, especially those found under the roof. Insulate the attic floor with about a 4-inch thickness of fibrous glass or exploded mica pellets or tack insulating batts between the roof rafters. If cold drafts are entering through corners, windows, doors and other areas, seal the area tightly.

9. If you're planning a winter vacation, why not give your fuel bills a vacation too? Before you leave, turn the thermostat down to the lowest setting.

10. Keep heaters free from obstructions. If you cover a radiator or block off a heat duct, the heat from that source is cut off and the room temperature will drop.

11. If you have a humidifier, be sure it's working properly. Adequate humidification during the winter permits fuel saving without any loss of comfort.

12. Check for leaky faucets around the house — they could be draining away hot water.

13. Make it a point to turn off the lights in all unused areas.

14. Have your air conditioning system serviced before warm weather approaches. If your air conditioning isn't working properly and efficiently, it will require more fuel and cost more to operate.

15. To get the most from your range or oven with the least amount of time, money and effort, try planning meals that can be completely prepared on only one part of the range—an all-oven meal for example. Call our Home Economics Department for suggestions.

If you have a gas range, check the flame — the gas should burn with a clear blue flame with no traces of yellow. If there are traces of yellow, try cleaning the burner. If the yellow persists, call your service representative or SDG&E.

Be careful when using aluminum foil to keep your oven clean. Don't use foil in any areas in the oven where it may block the opening provided for air circulation —if this air flow is blocked poor cooking will result. Don't use foil directly under a pan — it will reflect heat away from the pan.

16. Try to use your appliances to full capacity—you'll save time and money by putting reasonably full loads (but not overloads) in your dishwasher, washer and dryer.

REPAIRS — John Angeles, playing the role of the toy soldier, gets some adjustments by Mike Garcia, as the toymaker, in the Ginger Cody play for children, "The Magic Toyshop" which opened over the weekend at the Actors Quarter. The production will play Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2 p.m. at the Quarter, 480 Elm st., San Diego.

Pair Of Plays Opens At Actors Quarter Theatre

A pair of new plays opened over the weekend at the Actors Quarter Theatre, including one which stars two Lemon Grove actors.

"The Magic Toyshop" an original Christmas play written and directed by Ginger Cody of Lemon Grove, stars Cricket Cody as a Barbie doll and Makie Garcia as the toymaker, both of Lemon Grove.

The production, written especially — but not exclusively — for children, opened Saturday afternoon for a six-week run.

The story centers around the plight of Dee Dee, the "little nothing doll", who doesn't walk, talk, sing, dance, or play the piano — quite a rarity in modern times.

Dee Dee, as played by Stacy Sidner, appears to have been forgotten by those who have placed their orders for dolls from the toyshop. In the production, toys are played by actors, including five ballerina dolls.

In addition to Garcia and Miss Cody, the cast includes John Angeles as the toy soldier; Darlene Downer as the beautiful ballerina doll, Trina and Debbie Lewis, as Betsy, the little girl who eventually decides on Dee Dee.

"Born Yesterday," which opened Friday evening, is Garson Kanin's first successful sage play. Charles Costa is cast as the small-town junk dealer turned big-time, Harry Brock.

Brock's effect on his Washington, D.C. associates Senator Norval Hedges and former big-time lawyer Ed Devery, form the basis for the story. Things get a bit more interesting when journalist Paul Verrall enlightens Brock's long-time girlfriend as to what is going on.

Hedges is played by David Peach, Devery by Jon M. Smith, Verrall is portrayed by Pete Wenster, and Judy Sobel plays Billie Dawn, Brock's girlfriend.

"The Magic Toyshop" will be presented each Saturday and Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. through December 12, with seats for all ages priced at $1.

"Born Yesterday" will run Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m., with tickets priced at $2 for adults, and $1.50 for students and military personnel. The Actors Quarter is at 480 Elm st., San Diego.

Big Weekend Set For Gulls

The San Diego Gulls face the biggest weekend of the young Western Hockey League season as they take on the defending League and Lester Patrick Cup champion Portland Buckaroos tomorrow night at the Sports Arena, and host the league-leading Denver Spurs on Saturday night.

Both games start at 8 p.m. and will be broadcast on KOGO radio 60, with Ron Oakes at the microphone.

Following this weekend's games against Portland and Denver, the Gulls will host Phoenix next Wednesday night before heading out on a three-game road trip. The Phoenix game will mark the Gulls' Fifth Birthday and there will be a free special edition of The Hockey News and other surprises for the fans who help the Gulls celebrate.

Unbeaten in four starts on home ice, the Gulls have won three straight games and are winners in five of their last six. Their 7-3 record marks the second best start in San Diego's history; the Gulls were 7-2-1 after 10 games in the 1968-69 season.

While the Gulls started the week only two points behind the Spurs, Denver has two games scheduled before their match with the Gulls. The Spurs played last night at home against Seattle and play tonight in Phoenix.

The Gulls' Big Line of Gerry Goyer, Al Nicholson and Bob Courcy produced three of the four goals in Seattle and two goals against Salt Lake to continue their assault on the WHL.

After 10 games, the line has produced 22 goals (Goyer 9, Courcy 9, Nicholson 4) and 48 scoring points. Last season, they had 14 goals and 37 scoring points after 10 games.

Goyer, Courcy and Nicholson have been scoring important goals, too. Courcy has three game-winners, and Goyer and Nicholson have one each to account for five of the Gulls' seven wins. Nicholson and Goyer have two first goals apiece and Courcy has one.

Willie O'Ree, coming around after a slow start, has scored a goal in each of the last three games and got the game-winner against Salt Lake to break up a tough hockey game. The Gulls had taken a 2-0 lead, but the scrapping Eagles came back and tied the game, 2-2, before O'Ree and Courcy put the Gulls ahead to stay.

TV Star Heads Old Globe Show

"The Man in the Glass Booth", an international drama of suspense and deception starring Leonard Nimoy will open Tuesday on stage at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park. The star of popular television series "Star Trek" as Mr. Spock and of "Mission: Impossible", he will appear nightly except Monday plus Sunday matinees for a limited run through December 19.

Nimoy will portray a neurotic New York real estate tycoon who claims to be a former prisoner of Nazi concentration campus during World War II. Although guarded from unwelcome visitors his secret penthouse bastion is invaded by international police. Accused of being an escaped Nazi war criminal from World War II, the police arrest him.

Mounting evidence against the wealthy New Yorker by a series of former camp inmate witnesses heightens suspense before the electrifying climax.

"Glass Booth" is directed for the Old Globe Theatre by Ben Shaktman. Last summer he directed Leonard Nimoy in "Fiddler on the Roof." He has directed numerus stock productions in the United States and worked in multi-media theatre presentations. Internationally, Shaktman directed at the Royal Court Theatre in London, the Theatre Nationale Populaire in Paris and the Berliner Ensemble in Berlin.

Dinner-time Grid Game Pits St. Louis - Chargers

Hungry for victory, the San Diego Chargers entertain the St. Louis Cardinals at dinner time Monday.

Kickoff is 6 p.m. (PST) at San Diego Stadium for the nationally televised ABC "Game of the Week." It will not be televised in San Diego and Los Angeles.

Approximately 30 million TV fans will see the Chargers and Cardinals, both teams long on thrills but short on victories (3-5), cross conference lines to tangle for the first time in an NFL game.

In their only previous meeting, the Chargers rallied from a 24-7 deficit to beat the Cardinals, 34-27, in a pre-season game at Cleveland last year.

San Diego played an ABC Monday night game last year, losing a cliff-hanger to Green Bay, 22-20, before 53,064 at San Diego Stadium. St. Louis, which inaugurated Monday night football in 1964, is 2-0 before ABC cameras. The "Big Red" walloped Dallas, 38-0, in 1970, and beat the New York Jets, 17-10, this year.

Under rookie coach Bob Hollway, the Cardinals pack plenty of firepower. Quarterbacks Jim Hart and Pete Beathard like to throw long to swift wide receivers John Gilliam, Dave Williams and rookie Mel Gray. Jackie Smith is an outstanding tight end. MacArthur Lane, who gained 977 yards in 1970, and Cid Edwards are powerhouse runners.

St. Louis lost to Dallas, 16-13, at home last Sunday while San Diego was beaten, 35-17, by the New York Giants before 62,905 at Yankee Stadium.

Trailing 21-3 at halftime, John Hadl rallied the Chargers to 21-17 after three quarters, but the comeback died. Hadl completed 16 of 31 passes for 194 yards and two touchdowns as San Diego maintained its position as the No. 1 passing team in the AFC.

Jeff Queen caught five passes for 85 yards, Gary Garrison 4 for 39 and two touchdowns and Billy Parks had 3 for 34 to raise his NFL-leading total to 36 catches. Garrison and Mike Garrett also are among the top 10 AFC receivers with 27 catches.

Linebackers Bob Babich and Pete Barnes each made 16 tackles, 11 unassisted. For Babich, it lifted his season's total to 112, an average of 14 a game.

Monte Vista Belts Eagles

in the second half, but problems developed when an Art Spahr pass was intercepted by Mike Ortega, who returned it 75 yards for a touchdown.

The Monte Vista defense unit stiffened from that point on, while Spahr continued to lead the offensive crew, and the Monarchs took charge, scoring four touchdowns to make the final tally 49-28.

Spahr will hope to continue his good fortune with the pass tomorrow night against the superior Mount Miguel defense, which has stiffened in its last five contests.

Mount Miguel will counter with the league's best rushing attack and a sound passing potential.

Although the Matadors are equalled statistically on the ground by Helix and Grossmont rushers, the Matador attack is the best in the league. Because Mt. Miguel quarterback Jack Jenner passes so rarely, opponents have geared their defenses to stop the run, but Matador backs Tim Miller and Dan Cowan have still managed to rack up the yardage.

The Monarchs will be underdogs in tomorrow's contest, but the traditional rivalry between the two schools will insure that both teams will be "up" for the game, and anything could happen.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor,

A recently published quotation relative to defeat of the $19.5 million bond proposition in the October 19 special election in Grossmont Union High School District read in part as follows:

". . . had not been so frugal in the past, we would not have had to place such a sizeable package before the electorate at this particular point in me . . . ."

That statement may be opposite to the truth. The request for such a large amount of money at this time may have resulted from absence of frugality.

On the basis of what is apparent to me, our district is not frugal, despite a record of relatively low expenditures consequent to relatively low income.

On the ballot in the October 19 bond election, one of the stated purposes for which the proceeds could have been expended, would have had the effect of providing financial compensation for unnecessary wastefulness.

Scheidle Eyes More Use Of County Parks

A plan to double the use of County camping facilities, and double the revenue to the County, has been proposed by Harry Scheidle, Supervisor Third District.

In a letter to the other members of the Board of Supervisors, Scheidle said the County's six park camping facilities are operating with only 21½ percent occupancy over the entire year. He believes the present occupancy rate could be doubled through a reservation system and promotion of off season rates with special attention given to youth and senior citizen groups.

"I believe many vacancies are caused because people merely suspect that the parks are filled and will not risk disappointment by making a trip to the park site," Scheidle said. "A reservation system could eliminate much of the frustration, tension and disappointment of many of our campers."

A "Resident's Season Camping Pass" is also advocated by Scheidle.

"If 10,000 such passes were sold annually at $5 each, we could geerate $50,000 in income. This could give us $20,000 to operate a reservation system and $30,000 to promote the parks on a year-round basis," Scheidle explained.

Boney Now Serving As LG-SV Supervisor

In spite of a "class action" law suit and an order by Superior Court Judge Francis E. Gallagher to the district attorney, the county clerk and the county assessor to prepare a new plan and for the county clerk and the registrar of voters to disregard the new districts as legal entities, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley are now in Henry Boney's District.

Boney's office said this week that he was handling matters pertaining to his district.

The class action was based on the premise that the new districts were not related to the "true population" and that the supervisors were three days late in approving the new districts.

Major objection to the new districts came from Supervisor Jack Walsh whose District One which previously was north and south is now east and west. The Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area was converted from Harry Scheidle to Boney.
